

ABOUT THE SCHOOL

The PENNSYLVANIA ACADEMY OF BALLET was established in 1974 to train students who wish to study the art of ballet and who also demand the very best dance training available. All Academy students, regardless of age or professional aspiration, receive the same high quality training whether enrolled in the Regular or the Adult Division.

Academy founders, Margarita and John White, met as members of the Ballet Nacional de Cuba where they performed internationally as Principal and Soloist dancers. They began their extensive teaching careers after learning the Vaganova teaching method from Soviet ballet masters.

After performing internationally herself, Melinda Pendleton, the Whites' daughter, joined the faculty of the Academy. In 1991, Ms. Pendleton became co-director of the Academy with her parents. She assumed sole directorship of PAB in 2012. Together with their highly trained staff, they teach the Vaganova method of classical ballet. The method emphasizes precise technique, musicality, proper body placement, and a carefully structured breakdown of each movement.

Young children may begin as early as age 3 in our parent participation class, and at age 5 they move to our Pre-ballet division which serves as an introduction to ballet. Academic ballet classes are for children starting at age 8, teens, and adults who attend at least two classes per week. Advanced students take daily classes and also have an opportunity to dance in our performing group.

Students who are interested in a career in classical ballet receive training that provides the technical and artistic skills required to pursue this dream. Many Academy graduates are dancing professionally in ballet companies throughout the world, and several have won high honors in international and national competitions.
